The Town Officers made their fifth annual visit to the New Home on Tuesday, the 11th. Among their number were several invited guests. While the occasion was very enjoyable, our circle was incomplete, owing to the absence, by reason of illness, of Judge Putnam, who has been present at these annual meetings, as Auditor or Chairman of the Selectmen, upwards of twenty years. Hope was expressed that he would be speedily restored to sound health. The neatness of the house was pleasing to witness; evincing zeal on the part of the Matron in the performance of her duties; which is highly commendable. We regret that the Superintendent has announced his intention of severing his connection with the institution on the expiration of the year, ending Mar. 31, 1896. He deserves the gratitude of those under his care for his interest in their well being.

Although the past year was not as favorable for the farmer as might be desired; we found in store the following farm products: 29 traces of corn, 30 bushels of floor corn, 5 bushels of beans, 8 bushels of barley, 50 bushels of potatoes, 8 tons of hay, 1½ barrels of pork; and a sufficient supply of provisions for the year ending Mar 31, 1896. The stock on the farm consists of 2 oxen, 4 cows, and 1 swine. There are 10 cords of wood housed, and 20 cords in the yard, all of which is prepared for the stove.

We have carefully examined the books of the Selectmen, Overseer and Treasurer, and find the accounts accurately cast and well vouched.

This report is herewith respectfully submitted

—REPORT—
 —OF THE—
SUPERVISOR * OF * SCHOOLS,
 —FOR THE—
 —❖ SCHOOL YEAR ENDING FEB. 15, 1896. ❖—

TO THE INHABITANTS OF THE TOWN OF YORK:

The following is a brief statement of the work of the schools of York during the past year, together with a condensed table showing the length of terms, names of teachers, teachers' wages, studies pursued, etc.

CENTER SCHOOL. (GRAMMAR DEPARTMENT)

The spring term of the Grammar school was taught by Miss Mattie O. Barrell. and the fall and winter terms by Miss Elgira B. Luce, the three terms aggregating thirty weeks. Both of these teachers are experienced and efficient, and good progress in all the branches taught has been made.

CENTER SCHOOL. (PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.)

Miss Mabel S. Norton taught the spring term of the Primary school and Miss Effie Moulton the fall and winter terms. This is a large school, especially in the spring and fall terms. The attendance was much less in the winter term, though, as more of the pupils live near the school it would seem that the falling off in attendance was greater than it should have been. Both teachers gave excellent satisfaction and the general progress of the pupils was good.

RAYNES NECK.

Mrs. Jennie F. Moore taught the spring term and Miss Annie E. Trafton the fall term. Mrs. Moore commenced the winter term but was obliged by failing health to give up the school.

The term was completed by Miss Louise P. Grant. This unavoidable change of teachers impaired, to some extent the value of the term, but, on the whole fair work was accomplished and the record of the year is very good.

SOUTH SIDE.

In the spring term Miss Carrie L. Parsons had charge of this school, Mr. Wm. L. Grant in the fall and Miss Gertrude A. Junkins the winter term.

The school, though the smallest in town, made a good record, as regards attendance, only one scholar having missed a day during the winter term and that by reason of sickness. The record for progress in study is equally good.

BEECH RIDGE.

Miss Theodosia L. Barrell taught the spring term and Miss Mattie O. Barrell the fall and winter terms. The year has been, for this school, a successful one.

The handsome new school-house was occupied for the first time during the winter term. The transition from the ill-contrived, dingy, uncomfortable room heretofore occupied, with its drafts, smoke and mutilated benches, to the new one—cheerful, light and warm and furnished with new and comfortable desks and seats, is like that from darkness to light.

BRIXHAM.

The spring and fall terms of this school were under charge of Miss Elizabeth Rogers, which fact is, in itself, a sufficient guarantee of good results. The winter term also was highly successful under the management of Miss Josephine McIntire as teacher. There are some excellent scholars in this school and it is always a pleasure to visit the school and listen to the recitations.

The improved appearance of the school room is, in itself, enough to stimulate the pupils to increased exertion and greater studiousness.

SCOTLAND.

Miss Mary A. McIntire taught the spring term of the Scotland school, Miss Theodosia L. Barrell the fall term and Miss Mary Nowell the winter term. This school also is a very small one, but, unlike the one noted above the attendance is not what it should be. Some of the pupils can be depended upon to be in their places every day while others are out a good part of the time, thus reducing the average much below what it should be.

Where the necessity lies for 150 cases of tardiness and 36 cases of dismissal in a school averaging eight scholars passes my comprehension—that being the record.

CIDER HILL.

The Cider Hill school has been fortunate in having the services of Miss Kate Moulton, one of our most successful teachers; during the entire school year. Consequently excellent progress has been made. Four young ladies, who constituted the advanced class, entered the Free High school at the opening of the winter term, thus allowing Miss Moulton more time to devote to the less advanced pupils. The change has been beneficial to all concerned.

SCITUATE.

Miss Josephine McIntire in the spring term and Miss Mabel S. Norton in the fall and winter terms, by their ability and industry did much toward the good record which this school has made for the year. The scholars, however, through their interest, industry and tractability, fully sustained their part.

AGAMENTICUS.

Miss Emma A. Grace conducted the school at Agamenticus for the entire school year and, had the attendance been what it should have been, more marked progress would have been made. But the attendance, especially during the winter term, was extremely irregular, yet, as is always the case, those pupils who made the most of their time were benefitted. Much advancement has been made by the classes in reading.

CLAY HILL.

Miss Mary T. Wilson has had charge of the Clay Hill school during the three terms of the year. Miss Wilson is an experienced and industrious teacher and when her efforts are seconded and sustained by her pupils, good results may always be expected. Such results have been attained in the present instance. The school was quiet and orderly and the attendance acceptable.

NORTH VILLAGE.

For its size the North Village school is exceptional in excellence, and always shows comparatively, the highest average. The spring term was taught by Miss Mary Nowell, the fall term by Miss Gertrude A. Junkins, and the winter term by Mr. Leslie W. Glidden.

This was Mr. Glidden's first experience in teaching and was a very satisfactory effort.

The school has done well.

PINE HILL.

Miss Gertrude A. Junkins taught the spring term of this school and Mr. Gilman L. Moulton the fall and winter terms. Mr. Moulton had not had experience in teaching prior to the fall term, but his earnest efforts have in a great measure counterbalanced that lack and his school is in a prosperous condition. The result for the year will be fully up to the average.

One fault in this school is exceedingly reprehensible and that is the frequency of dismissals during the session, 238 cases being reported. This is most certainly uncalled for and unnecessary and should be remedied.

CAPE NEDDICK.

Miss C. Eugenia Junkins in the spring term, Miss Josephine McIntire in the fall and Mr. Melville C. Freeman in the winter term, presided over the school at Cape Neddick, all with greater or less success.

Two things are observable with regard to this school which can but tend to lower the standard of excellence, one of them is the low average as compared with the number of pupils registered, the other is the extremely large number of cases of tardiness reported. Commencing with 43 in the spring term, rising to 65 in the fall and culminating in the unheard of number of 167 during the winter term, thus outdoing Beech Ridge with its 94 cases and Brixham with its 121 cases.

Who is to blame in this matter ?

YORK BEACH.

Miss Effie Moulton, who has taught in the York Beach school several terms, had charge of it in the spring term.

She was succeeded by Miss Lottie L. Moore in the fall, who has continued through the winter. This is one of the largest of our schools and contains a number of advanced pupils who should be in the Free High school, both for their own benefit and the good of the school.

In a school as large as this one it is a detriment to the school to have a few advanced scholars, as they require more than their share of the time of the teacher.

It would be well if this matter could be remedied, not only in this school, but in others as well.

I have thus briefly sketched the status of the schools, but am well aware that any efforts in this line can but fail to convey to the parents an adequate conception of what their children are doing in the way of acquiring the rudiments of an education and of what the schools are doing for them, and there seems small incentive to try to enlighten them in these matters while they systematically ignore the only feasible plan of ascertaining these things for themselves; by neglecting to visit their schools and to become acquainted with the teachers. It is not only the right of parents and guardians to visit their schools, but their privilege and duty as well.

While I have visited all the schools from two to five times each term, I was prevented by illness from visiting several schools at the close of the winter term. A member of the School Board, Dr. Hawkes, however, performed this duty in an efficient and acceptable manner.

FREE HIGH SCHOOL.

The school year of the Free High school has witnessed three terms aggregating thirty-one weeks. Mr. George W. Shay taught the spring term and Mr. J. B. Brown the fall and winter terms.

The same difficulty which has always presented itself at the opening of the High school year was met at the commencement of the past year, viz: So few scholars presenting themselves as candidates for admission that all had to be admitted whether qualified or not, in order that a respectable number might be had. This is not because there are not enough scholars in York amply qualified to attend a high school, but because they do not avail themselves of the opportunity.

It is encouraging to note the fact that the High school of the past year has been a great improvement over anything of the kind heretofore attempted. One great drawback to the efficiency of the Free High school in this town is the element of uncertainty which ever attends it. No one knows from one year to another whether the school will be continued or whether it will be voted down in town meeting. For this reason citizens prefer to send their sons and daughters to some school out of town, where no such uncertainty exists.

The school should be continued, not only for the benefit of the pupils who may attend, but for the further benefit of those schools from which its pupils are drawn. If continued, not less than $500 should be appropriated as in that case the town receives the full benefit of state aid, amounting to $250 00 which is the limit. This gives $750 00 available funds.

A great help to the permanency of this institution would be found in the ownership by the town of a building for high school purposes. The renting of a building for school purposes is but poor economy in more ways than one.

It may not be amiss to mention in this connection the fact that if the High school should be discontinued, some provision will have to be made for the establishment of a third school at York Village, as the return to the Grammar school of many pupils now members of the High school, together with the increase in population in that section would most uncomfortably crowd both school rooms.

FREE TEXT BOOKS.

The free text book law has been in operation about six years. The introductory cost of books for all the schools was not far from $1000. For two or three years the expense for new books was comparatively light, but as the original books have become worn out and useless the annual expense has steadily increased.

A sum not less than that appropriated last year should be appropriated for the ensuing year.

SCHOOL PROPERTY.

There are fourteen school houses within the limits of the town, five of which are new, having been erected withing the past five years. Of the others, two are practically new, having been remodeled and thoroughly repaired. These seven are all furnished with the best modern furniture.

Of the remaining seven, which are all in good condition externally, three are furnished with modern furniture, though of an old pattern. The other four are furnished with the old wooden desk and bench, uncomfortable, unsightly and of a bye gone age. These four buildings are also in poor condition internally, and I am of the opinion that equality and fairness demand that they shall be placed on an equal footing with the other school buildings which are ornaments to the town, occupying the places of those old affairs so long a bye word and reproach. The four buildings referred to are those at Raynes Neck, South Side, Scituate and Agamenticus.
